

Reprint Policy

Content on this site is copyrighted. However, we support anyone wishing to reprint our material, so long as the following guidelines are followed:

- The article must be published in its entirety and may not be edited. This includes the article title. Should you wish to make any changes to the article, please contact prchair@caclac.com for approval from both the author and the CLAC PR Committee.
- All content must be attributed to CLAC in the following form "Reprinted by permission of CAI's California Legislative Action Committee. For more information, visit CLAC online at CAICLAC.com."
- The Source Article URL must be included before the byline.
- All links within the content must be maintained if the article is being used on any web site or other online forum.
- You may not add any links to any article you reprint from CLAC.
- You may not authorize any third parties to use CLAC's article in anyway which violates this policy.
- The article may not to be used for sale in any format, including ebooks, or subscription websites, without prior written permission by CLAC and the article's author.
- You may not use any content from our site in audio or video derivatives whatsoever.

Serving 9 Million Owners in 50,000 Community Associations Throughout California